Phil Angelides

“Why no one on Wall Street has gone to jail since Martha Stewart”***

Our homeboy Phil has earned national acclaim as an effective public and private sector leader with an impressive record of advancing financial reform and corporate responsibility and forging innovative solutions to create jobs and economic progress. He has won widespread praise for his efforts to build the new green economy and for his groundbreaking work in sustainable development.

Phil served as Chairman of the Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission, a ten member bipartisan panel created by federal law and charged with conducting the nation's official inquiry into the causes of the financial and economic crisis. And he got everyone's attention by giving Alan Greenspan a well-deserved, and long overdue, verbal spanking.

The Commission presented its report to the President and Congress last January, concluding that the crisis was avoidable and was caused by widespread failures of regulation, dramatic breakdowns in corporate governance, excessive risk taking by Wall Street, government leaders ill-prepared for crisis, and systemic breaches in accountability and ethics. The report made the New York Times and Washington Post best sellers lists and The New York Review.

\ Our title was stolen from John Stewart. We felt it would be a better draw than Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission Report*
